What is the Law of Attraction?

At its simplest, the Law of Attraction states that what we think about, we manifest. Whether it's a positive thought: something we want or are happy to have in our lives, or a negative thought: something we dislike, something we're afraid of, or something we don't want in our lives, the Law of Attraction will bring more of that into our lives.

How is NLP Related to the Law of Attraction?

Many people don't realize how powerful a simple change in sentence structure can be, when using the Law of Attraction and affirmations. Proper use of NLP fundamentals can make the Law of Attraction so much easier and more effective, by providing a vehicle for your conscious, rational mind, to feed messages into your subconscious mind, and essentially reshape it for the better.

I'm not spiritual at all! Is the Law of Attraction for me?

Yes! While the Law of Attraction is quite popular in many spiritual circles, its roots are in the discipline of Quantum Physics. You don't have to be spiritual at all in order to use and appreciate the Law of Attraction; it's a universal, scientific law.

A law is a binding tendency that exists in the universe, whether or not we decide to believe it. It's like gravity. You can choose to ignore it if you like, but when you let go of a bag of groceries, it's going to hit the ground either way. Laws are always in effect, whether or not we're aware of them.

The Law of Attraction is a law of the universe, extending far beyond just the planet Earth. Quantum physics states that the universe is made up of nothing but waves and particles of energy. We'll explore more about how our thoughts create vibrational waves, and how those waves interact with the universe in the coming chapters!
