Lost passport emergency.

A passport is an important travel document and people must take care of their passport. You are responsible for taking care for your passport while visiting, traveling, working, retiring, or living abroad. You may or should secure your passport at all times during your travel abroad. Sometimes, people are careless and they may not be able to find their passport.

Step 1 Remain calm

Remaining calm may or could give you the ability to find and think of solutions faster. Also, you may or could respond faster so you may be able to get it replaced. Having a plan in case your passport is lost may or could be useful to have. Preparedness may be a good solution to future problems that may or could occur.

Lost passport emergency.

Stay calm. Maybe your passport was just misplaced or it fell under the bed. Maybe your passport is in another place and you need time to find it. Check the coffee shop you visited or a recent place you visited. They may have it safe for you there. Let me explain about my experience. I dropped on accident my passport at a restaurant. I was calm as I searched everything. I started my mind mapping process by reviewing all the places I visited within the last 24 hours. I visited those places. Now, I went to the last place on the list.

As I was leaving, an employee came late to work. The employee said she remembered me and had something for me. What did she have for me? She pulled out a cellular phone. All that time thinking about passport, my cellular phone was lost, too. She pulled out something else? Can you guess what it was? It was cash. I dropped cash, too. She was very honest. I really didn't care about my cheap cellular phone or cash! My mind was on my passport. Finally, another employee said he forgot something. What did he forget? Yes, it was my passport. I realized I was careless. Being careless isn't an option traveling abroad.

Step 2 Double check to confirm it is not lost or at another location you previously visited.

Months later I decided to visit another country. I had an opportunity to volunteer and so I thought it would be worth it. The opportunity didn't pay much but the benefits were worth it. Bang! It happened! What do you think happened? This time it was the real deal. The passport was gone. The passport was lost. This time it was lost for sure after checking and checking again. It was really lost. I did my mind mapping within the last 24 hours. It wasn't fruitful. I still could not find my passport.

Step 3 Embassy or consulate

The American Embassy may be the best place to visit when you can't find your passport or if your passport may be stolen, too. Try to handle your passport with care so these situations ... (Read and continue in the book. Thank you.)
